Partnering With California

California would be the world's 8th largest economy if it were a nation. It is the largest exporting state into Hong Kong and China and is the number one state for attracting foreign direct investment. The California Association of China and Hong Kong SAR together with the University of Southern California – USC Hong Kong, invite you to attend a unique afternoon Seminar and Wine Reception on December 8, 2008 to explore partnerships with the Golden State. As the world's fastest growing economy, China continues to expand well beyond its borders with foreign direct investment into California serving as an important investment gateway to the United States. Please join us for an informal discussion about cross-border opportunities between two of the most active cross pacific regional gateways and most dynamic economies in the world. Recent unprecedented economic impacts across the globe, post-election results in the U.S., and its policy implications for two way trade and investment activity will also be covered in this unique Forum. Our three distinguished speakers are –
